Message:

Re-Drawing of District lines can have a negative lasting impact on our community and our children in minority communities. The current programs for child care, education, and other support for families can widely be affected in a negative way that could hurt our communities of color. These programs are not something that we can afford to lose. This can have a lasting impact for generations to come. The funding needed to provide equity for quality education can set neighborhoods back and lead to a problem of the haves vs. the have nots.
