Message:

I recently moved to Plainview from Washington state. To the land of the free I believed. I have come to think a little bit differently than that. Progressivism has plagued texas also. Just not as bad yet. During this redistricting I urge the Senate to do its constitutional duty and provide reasonable and fair redistricting but this is a red state just like blue states do use this census to our advantage and help elect good conservatives you can help with that by aligning districts in a manner that makes it easier. Use that power and do so. God bless texas and I hope it remains red for years to come.
