Message:

I support Redistricting efforts that are based on communities. What do I have in common with Burnet, Gatesville or Hillsboro, Texas? As far as living conditions, not much. I live in Austin and have a different community connection than these cities. My concerns are related to problems like traffic congestion, affordable housing, homelessness, mass growth and clean air and water. I need a representative to focus on issues in my area. A representative that lives in my area.

I think the redistricting process should be transparent and accessible to the public. I am hoping for a fair and open redistricting process so that districts better represent their communities. The process should include public input, accountability, and transparency.

Please end gerrymandering and make Texas legislation a true representation of their communities that have common environments, cultures and economies.
